The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, NOVEMBER 1st, 1909.

REUTERS, a few days ago, told us that Lord Curzon, ex Viceroy of India, when referring in a public speech to the foul assassination of Prince Iro by a Korean, remarked that the task of ruling a subject Eastern people was hard enough for the British, and the tragedy at Harbin indicated that it was apparently no less difficult for the Japanese. And yet it must have been a surprise to the whole civilised world to learn that this foul crime was the premeditated act of a Korean, and that the man had travelled all the way to Harbin with the deliberate intention of killing the great statesman in revenge for what the misguided creature conceived to be the wrongs his country had suffered at the veteran statesman's hands. Even in the East few people outside Korea can have had any notion that there was still prevailing in Korea such a fever of unrest as to breed men of this desperate type. A good deal was heard of an insurrectionary movement shortly after Japan undertook the task of reforming the administration of Korea, and it will be recalled that the American adviser to the Korean Government was assassinated at San Francisco by two Koreans because of his pro-Japanese views. But most people had formed from the absence of news to the contrary the impression that the insurrectionary movement in Korea had been suppressed by the iron hand of the Japanese Military. That statement has many times appeared in Japanese papers, and though not strictly true, it does not appear that any central body is in existence organising resistance to Japanese rule, and the "insurgents" show themselves only in small bands. Not long before Prince Iro retired from the post of Resident-General, His Excellency travelled extensively about the country and no extraordinary precautions appeared to be taken to assure his safety from attack by malcontents. It was, however, very apparent from the speeches which the Prince delivered on the tour that a good deal of latent hostility to Japanese rule remained to be overcome in the country. Japanese brigades had for more than a year previously been sweeping the country, suppressing all active insurrectionary movements, killing or arresting the ringleaders and dispersing their following. We have seen no recent statistics of the results of these operations; the latest we have covers the period from July, 1907 (when the Protectorate agreement was concluded), to the end of August, 1908. During that period the number of insurgents killed had amounted to 12,016, while 5,982 had surrendered. The Japanese casualties comprised 169 killed, 254 wounded and 8,162 sick, including 796 succumbed. Unhappily the publication of those statistics more than a year ago did not mark the complete suppression of the insurgent bands and the restoration of peace and order. Great additions must have been made to these figures since. In one of the latest Seoul papers to hand, dated October 20th, we read: "It is reported that order is more and more being restored in various parts of the country. Especially is this the case in South Cholla-do, which was at one time the hot-bed of insurrection. The province has recently been swept over by the WATANABE Brigade, and many insurgents, who used to roam there at large, have either been killed, captured or have surrendered." We note also a report of the capture of two insurgent leaders, and our contemporary says that, on the whole, the situation is very satisfactory, and "it is hoped that the Empire will be in the enjoyment of peace and order before very long." Since that was written the tragedy at Harbin has happened. It is by no means improbable that we shall learn in due course that it has been followed by a recrudescence of the insurrectionary movement all over Korea, ending in large additions to the casualty lists and the postponement of the time when it can be reported that peace and order reign throughout the land. This fear is confirmed by the telegram which has reached us from our Tokyo correspondent since the foregoing remarks were written. He reports that insurgents have destroyed the station of the Seoul-Fusan railway, and that a general rising is threatened as a consequence of the announcement of the death of Prince Iro. Let us hope that wiser counsels will prevail to prevent the bloodshed which would be the inevitable result of a general rising. Evidently the insurgents in Korea are playing right into the hands of that section of the Japanese public who are demanding the annexation of Korea.

Mr. Craddock, general traffic agent of the C.P.R., informs us that on Saturday he received a message from Yokohama that the R. M. S. Empress of Japan, which steamer sailed from Hongkong on the 16th instant, reported "All well" 1,250 miles from Yokohama on Friday evening. The friends of passengers on board will doubtless be glad to receive this intelligence.

Six weeks' imprisonment and six hours in the stocks was the punishment meted out on Saturday by Mr. Wood to a compositor who stole a quantity of type from the office of the Hongkong Daily Press. The thief was exposed in Des Vaux Road near the Daily Press Office, and three other rogues were seized with him. One was found guilty of embezzlement and besides a term in the stocks was sentenced to six months' imprisonment. The second and third were sentenced to similar terms, one for returning from banishment, and the other for larceny from the person.

A TRICK THAT FAILED
SMART DETECTIVE WORK.

When Chan Sui, a foki from a shop at 19, Connaught Road West, presented himself at the Central Police Station on Friday night, he bore the appearance of having been through a desperate combat. He told the Inspector on duty that he had been sent by his master to various banks to cash a number of cheques. His last visit was to the Russo-Chinese Bank and after leaving this institution and emerging on to Chester Road, at about 4 p.m., he said he met a man whom he did not know and could not identify, although he proceeded to minutely describe him. This individual, the foki said, threw pepper in his eyes, while another person struck him on the chest with a knife, penetrating the skin, and as the foki raised his left arm to guard himself the knife again fell on his wrist and inflicted a severe wound. He was then overpowered and the thieves relieved him of $5,730 in bank notes.

After relating this story of assault, and dwelling on his determined fight to retain his master's money, the foki was passed over to Detective-Sergeant Grant, who was told the story afresh. During the second recital the keen eyes of the detective kept the foki fixed, and the first peculiar point which attracted Sergeant Grant's attention was the remarkable closeness of the eyes which were supposed to have been blinded with pepper. When the detective's gaze rested upon the shopkeeper's assistant the latter contorted his face in a remarkable manner, and at the same time viciously rubbed his eyes as though he was suffering great pain. But when the foki thought he was unobserved his eyes would open wide and the spasms of pain would pass. Then the sergeant observed that the wounds appeared to be self-inflicted and his suspicions being thoroughly aroused, he searched the narrator and found the money alleged to have been stolen concealed in his socks.

When the foki was charged before Mr. J. R. Wood at the Magistracy on Saturday for embezzlement of the amount mentioned, he pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labour without the option of a fine.

GENERAL RISING THREAT-ENED IN KOREA.

A RAILWAY STATION DESTROYED.
Tokyo, October 31st.
Korean insurgents on Friday night attacked and destroyed the station of the Seoul-Fusan railway.
A general rising is threatened as a result of the accomplishment of the death of Prince Ito.

THE NAVAL MUTINY IN GREECE.

London, October 30th.
Reuter's correspondent at Athens telegraphs that Naval Lieutenant Typaldos at the head of 300 men seized the arsenal at Salamis without meeting any resistance.
The greatest excitement prevails in Athens, where the Ministry of Marine is guarded by troops.

LATER.
The situation at Athens is due to the imperative demands of junior Naval officers for drastic reforms in the torpedo flotilla.
Eight vessels have joined Lieutenant Typaldos, and it is feared that the rest of the fleet will join owing to its hostility to the military.

The troops in garrison have declared their willingness to obey their officers and to carry out orders.

The first shots of the revolution were fired this afternoon by the field batteries and the torpedo boats, and the battle lasted for twenty minutes, after which negotiations were resumed.

Typaldos demands his appointment as Minister of Marine within twenty-four hours in order to enable himself to control the reforms in the Navy, otherwise his torpedo-boats will attack the rest of the fleet.

It is believed that he is the mad tool of others.

LATER.
The battleships also bombarded the torpedo boats, the "Spendone" being hit.

It is officially announced that the arsenal, which the revolutionaries had captured, is now again in the possession of the Government.

It is expected that the torpedo boats will surrender.

A rumour is current that the munitiers contemplate a raid on the Crete Chamber.

The Premier has announced that the Government is determined to crush the outbreak.

London, October 31st.
Reuter's correspondent at Athens telegraphs that the mutiny is practically quelled.

The munitiers lost four or five killed and several wounded. Two loyalists were killed and two wounded on the battleship "Hydra" by the fire of the destroyers.

Troops, mobilised in the provinces, are arriving in Athens.

The most conflicting rumours are current regarding the fate of Typaldos. He appears to have escaped in a small boat and landed at Eleusis, though some say he escaped with the ringleaders on the "Velos," which is the only destroyer unaccounted for.

London, October 31st.

Kemp to be Registrar of the Supreme Court, Registrar of Companies, Official Administrator and Official Trustee; Mr. E. D. C. Wolfe to be Head of the Sanitary Department; and Mr. R. O. Hutchinson to be First Assistant Registrar-General and Deputy Registrar of Marriages. Under the Medical Registration Ordinance of 1894, the Governor has appointed Mr. G. Balloch to be a member of the Medical Board during the absence on leave of Mr. H. A. W. Slade. Other appointments are: Hon. Mr. W. Ross Davies, K.C., to act as Chief Justice; Mr. F. A. Hazeland to act as Attorney-General; Mr. E. B. Hallifax to act as First Police Magistrate; and Mr. E. B. Lindsey to be manager of the British section of the Kowloon-Canton Railway with effect from October 28th.

THE CHINA STATION.

Quite unnecessary surprises, says a London paper, have been expressed at the selection of the Minotaur to succeed the King Alfred at flagship on the China station. The obvious reason is, that the Germans have lately sent the Scharnhorst, one of their best and newest cruisers to relieve the Furst Bismarck out there, replacing her at home by the Blucher, which will shortly be in commission. The respective fighting power of the two returning flagships and their successors is as follows:—

	King Alfred	Furst Bismarck	Minotaur	Scharnhorst
Displacement	14,100 tons	10,700	14,500	11,500
Armament	2-9.2in. 4-6.9in.	4-9.2in. 6-6.9in.	6-9.2in. 8-6.2in.	16-6in. 12-6in.
Armour	6.3in. 8.4in.	6.4in. 6.4in.	(Krupp) (Krupp, old)	(Krupp) (Krupp)
Speed	24 knots	19 knots	23 knots	22 knots

The advantage held by the Minotaur over the Scharnhorst is very marked. That of the King Alfred over the Furst Bismarck was, in reality, little less so, for the German cruiser was a very unsatisfactory compromise between a battleship and a cruiser, her speed being poor and her armour belt very restricted in length and depth. The Scharnhorst, on the other hand, is a slightly better ship than the King Alfred; so that, for the sake of British prestige, the exchange is desirable.

CORRESPONDENCE.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER'S PHILOSOPHY.

[TO THE EDITOR OF THE "HONGKONG DAILY PRESS."]

SIR,—I have read, with much pleasure, Mr. Rockefeller's little verse in your issue of the 30th inst. Will you permit me to improve on his version:—

A wise old owl sat on an oak;
The more he saw, the less he spoke;
The less he spoke, the more he heard;
Why can't you be like that wise old bird?
But perhaps your printer's devil has been so bold as to mix up his philosophy with that of the great John D. F—I am, Sir, yours truly,

C. G. G.
[The third line of Mr. Rockefeller's version ran: "The more he spoke, the less he heard." We prefer our correspondent's revised version.]

FINANCIAL STATEMENT FOR AUGUST.

The Colony's financial statement for the month of August is published in the current Gazette. The balance of assets and liabilities on July 31st is given at $600,172.48, and this with a revenue for the month of August of $524,328.35, makes a total of $1,124,500.83. Against this there is an expenditure for the same month of $643,417.10, which leaves a credit balance of $481,083.73.

The statement of assets and liabilities places the total assets at $855,917.26 and the total liabilities at $374,833.53, giving a credit balance as stated above. This reimbursement due by railway construction account on 31st December, 1908 is $1,356,136.50, from which has to be deducted a credit balance on account of 1909 of $64,833.92, leaving an amount of $1,291,302.58. Adding to this amount the credit balance already mentioned of $481,083.73, the balance of assets (General Account) stands at $1,772,386.31.

MINISTERING CHILDREN'S LEAGUE
BAZAAR.

The bazaar and fancy fête held on Saturday afternoon at the Volunteer Parade Ground under the auspices of the Ministering Children's League proved a most interesting social event and at the same time a most profitable enterprise for the philanthropic objects in view. Stalls were ranged round the Parade Ground.

Needlework and fancy goods predominated. The beautiful specimens of work on exhibition were such as to delight the many lady visitors, and for that the young people who assisted in the undertaking are entitled to the greatest credit. The stallholders were as under:—

Ten stall—Mrs. Lyon and Mrs. Gresson.
Ice stall—Mrs. Seth.
Fencing stall—Mrs. Bell and Miss Penndrooke.
Work stall—Mrs. Peck and Miss Bryer.
Work stall—Mrs. Tucker and Miss Glover.
Toys and enamelled work—Miss M. Loureiro.
Fancy Goods stall—Misses Reich.
Work stall—Mrs. Eves and Mrs. Wait.
Orange trees—Mrs. Lammer.
Cherry trees—Mrs. Grimble.

The weather was ideal, visitors were numerous and the business of buying and selling was conducted under very agreeable conditions. The aggregate realised must have been better than on previous years, as some of the stalls reached a total of over $200 in their drawings. Not the least interesting of the proceedings was the auction sale conducted by the Hon. Mr. May, who was called upon to help dispose of all the articles unsold, a work which he accomplished with satisfactory results.

At four o'clock a variety entertainment took place in the Drill Hall. The programme, which had been arranged by Miss Ellis Rowe, included the "Tin Tan Tales" by Misses Iris and Dione May, a minuet dance by Miss Stella Jupp and Miss Angel Ormiston, a solo, "Teddy Dear," by Miss Ella Rowe, a dance by Miss Vere David, and a humorous contribution from Mr. Worcester. The later entertainment, "A Pair of Lunatics," by Mrs. Worthington and Captain Baird, attracted a good attendance and proved very amusing.

The proceeds will be devoted to local charities and to the Hongkong act at the Otterhouse Home in Surrey founded by Lady Meath.

THE MANILA OPIUM CASE.

Judge Lotbinger in giving judgment in the case of William Kennedy, a Chinese banker, charged with being concerned with Louis T. Grant in smuggling into the Philippine opium and cocaine to the value of about P. 100,000 said:—

From the evidence produced in court we must therefore find:—
(1) That the two defendants knowingly conspired together to import or bring into the Philippine Islands a large quantity of opium and cocaine contrary to law;
(2) That, pursuant to such conspiracy, said opium and cocaine were imported and brought into the Philippine Islands in violation of law;
(3) That the defendant Kennedy knowingly assisted in importing and bringing, and facilitated the transportation of said opium and cocaine into the Philippine Islands.
The Prosecuting Attorney recommends a penalty of imprisonment for one year. Under all the circumstances we cannot say that this is excessive as to defendant Kennedy, nor that any lesser penalty would be adequate. The case is a particularly aggravated one and the plot, if successful, would have gone far to frustrate the law's beneficent purpose to eradicate the destructive and hideous opium habit. The crime was committed deliberately and with long and careful preparation. No merely casual punishment would meet the case. The defendant Kennedy is therefore sentenced to imprisonment for one year, and to pay one-half of the costs of this prosecution.

Defendant Grant's physician reports to the court that said defendant is confined to his bed with sickness and is unable to appear. Since any further steps in his case (whatever disposition is made of his application to withdraw his plea of guilty and take evidence) will require his presence in court, decision as to him will be reserved; a reasonable time pending his recovery.

GER AND CHARACTER—STRONG GLASS—
MAKING FISHING NETS INVISIBLE—A PEAT POWER PLANT—SALINGERING EXPOSED BY ELECTRICITY—CUTTING OUT OLD AGE.

The temperature of the fire of a moving locomotive has been at last determined to be 13,350 degrees F. at a speed of 31 miles an hour, and 12,800 degrees F. at 19 miles. The draft and the temperature are greater than when the engine is at rest, but it was found that the measurements—which were made in Germany—could be effected while running by using a Le Chatelier pyrometer, with a special galvanometer, having a compensator and made to retain sensitiveness and accuracy in severe jolting. The chief difficulty was to expose the pyrometer to the greatest heat and yet shield it from the direct flame. There was risk of fusing the platinum-iridium wires, and this was only avoided by placing the pyrometer high in the fire-box, enclosed in a tube of chrome steel encased in a protective coating of fire clay.

The electric rat trap at the municipal station of Charlottenburg, Germany, is the invention of Herr Von Biederstein, and consists of a set of wires so placed in the three-phase 120-volt circuit that the rats must come in contact with them. Death results instantly, with practically no combustion of the bodies. Any desired number of these destroyers can be mounted together in a large box, and it is recommended that an electric bell or lamp be arranged to signal an electrocution, so that the trap may be promptly reset. A direct current of 220 volts can be used.

The curious instrument of Dr. A. Basler consists of a lever with a bit of paper at the short arm and a fine measuring scale at the end of the long arm. Looked at from a distance of a foot, persons with normal vision detect a movement of the paper as small as 1/800 of an inch, and some could see a displacement of 1/1200 of an inch. Objects of these dimensions are much too small for the naked eye. An illuminated slit was shown in the dark, and the smallest movement perceptible was four times as great as that of the paper.

Only the well-fed man is normal, and a new French work by M. Laignard shows the extraordinary influence of deficient nourishment upon the mind, character and general behaviour. Starvation may result in various ways. It may be voluntary, as in the prolonged endurance tests of Suici and others, in attempts to commit suicide, and in religious fasts; or involuntary, as in fevers and other diseases, as a result of poverty, or as a consequence of shipwreck or imprisonment by accident in mines or wrecked buildings. Voluntary and habitual fasting for a moderate period has an extraordinary effect in stimulating mental activity, especially arousing the imagination. Prolonged deprivation brings a remarkable change in the character of the individual, as shown by a peculiar excitability, great selfishness and even cruelty, together with signs of mental derangement, such as partial loss of memory and self-control, and an inclination to irresistible impulses. Extreme cases develop acute mental derangement, with sleeplessness, nightmare and macinal visions at night, and hallucinations and dangerous impulses by day. Similar effects are seen in drunkenness and certain diseases, and seem to be associated with a similar imperfect nourishment.

Drawn glass an inch and a third in thickness has been found to support 30,000 pounds per square inch when in sheets measuring 9 by 10 inches, and 23,000 pounds in sheets of 15 by 14 inches. Its great strength, with its resistance to temperature changes, has been bringing it into favour in the construction of machinery. In official tests at Breslau the glass is heated 87 minutes, then sprinkled one minute, and finally deluged with a strong jet of water for two minutes, and is expected to endure this severe treatment without cracking. The glass passes much light and is readily cleaned.

The nets of Scottish fishermen are now being dyed blue with sulphate of copper, as a result of the recent discovery that sea-coloured nets catch more fish than the brown nets so long used. A test of the value of this new departure was made not long ago by a fleet of 65 fishing-boats, of which only one carried nets dyed blue, and the catch by this boat was so much larger than that by any other that the influence of colour was decided to be real.

The peat electric station at Skaraborg, Sweden, which has been quietly worked more than five years, is supplied by a small bog of 37 acres, with peat averaging five feet in depth, and in this source is estimated to have fuel for about 30 years. The electric current is yielded by two generators of 150 horse-power each, which are coupled direct to two gas engines, receiving the peat gas from two Korting suction-gas producers. The current is conducted two or three miles to Svedala, and is there used for lighting the streets, and for power for several small industries. The price to consumers is only about one-half cent per horse-power hour.
Tar is the only by-product saved, but the experiments now in progress at different places indicate that the sulphate of ammonia and other by-products recovered in a somewhat larger quantity—one of a few thousand horse-power—will be so profitable that they will pay all expenses, leaving the entire power-production as clear gain, or a product costing nothing.

Victims of accident sometimes feign local paralysis long after recovery—as in a broken limb that has healed—and an electrical means of detecting the fraud has been devised. The test is based on the fact that a faradic current causes a muscle to contract when applied to the proper nerve. An apparatus of Dr. Liardet is designed to give a graphic record of the degree of contraction, and comparison of the records for corresponding muscles on both sides of the body is expected to prove convincing court evidence in damage suits. The variations have a simple interpretation. If the injured muscle and its opposite contract alike, there is no paralysis; if the injured muscle shows a weaker reaction, the pretended nerve-disease is real; but if the reaction is stronger than on the other side, the paralysis has its seat in the brain or spinal cord.

Now the surgeon proposes to use the knife to remove the cause of old age! Metchnikoff long ago advanced the theory that the lower intestine, serving as a breeding place for harmful germs, is responsible for most diseases and early death, and, agreeing with him, Dr. Distas of Paris proposes to remove the large intestine completely in childhood.

A NEW ROAD TO THE EAST.

Mr. F. A. Mackenzie, in an article published in the Daily Mail says:
When the important visitor suggests to a Prince Rupert resident that his city will in course of time become a second Vancouver, the resident is indignant that the expectation does not go higher. The new terminal railway will open up a fresh avenue to the Far East, saving 433 knots in the sea trip to Yokohama as against the more southern port. This must draw a large part of the Pacific passenger traffic to the Far East. Another great advantage possessed by this route will be the very low gradient of the Grand Trunk Pacific across the Rockies. The highest ascent made by the railway when crossing the mountains is under seven thousand feet, and the maximum gradient is twenty-one feet a mile. Further south the lines have a maximum gradient several times as great. Low gradients mean the possibility of fast running, and it is hoped to do the journey from the coast to Prince Rupert in one hundred hours.

Every city has its drawback, and the drawback of Prince Rupert is so greatly in evidence that even the chance visitor is sure soon to discover it. Here it rains with a steadiness, a constancy, and a lack of variety that might well weary even an experienced man from Glasgow.
In the unsympathetic language of the clerk of the weather, the annual rainfall is 150 inches.
Vancouver is supposed by those who know it to be the wettest corner in the world, but Vancouver has here to admit of defeat. It is much rain falls in the northern city, with ten inches to spare. Experts claim that when the trees are cut down this amazing rainfall will greatly decrease, as happened at Vancouver.
May their forecast prove true. At present, however, the best advice that can be given to any man thinking of going Prince Rupert is to take with him an abundant supply of rubber boots, waterproofs, and umbrellas. He may be assured that he will need them.

The full inheritance of this new city will not be realized until the Panama Canal is finished.
Then Prince Rupert, Vancouver, and all the ports of the West will enter on a new era.
The great crops of the New North-West will more and more be taken through them to the world markets, to save the long land haul to the Atlantic. Prince Rupert to-morrow will be the main station of the great high road to Asia and one of the world's great travel posts.

A GOOD START IN LIFE.

Mothers should early realize how essential good health is for the success of their child in after life. A badly nourished baby generally means an undersized child, wanting in stamina and vigour. If unable to nurse your baby, you must give the substitute that most closely resembles human milk. No farinaceous or starchy food or unmodified cow's milk is permissible to a child under 6 or 7 months of age. The "Allenburys' Milk Foods are so prepared as to remove the difference between cow's milk and human milk, and they are as easy of digestion as the natural food of the child.

The "Allenburys' Foods are alike suitable for the delicate and robust, and, when used as directed, form the best means of rearing a child by hand. The No. 1 Milk Food may be given alternately with the mother's milk without fear of upsetting the child, or causing digestive disturbance. The dreaded process of weaning is thus made easy and comfortable both to the mother and child.

The Allenburys' Foods.

RANDOM REFLECTIONS.

When is a Protestant cemetery not a Protestant cemetery? When it is in Hongkong. That is a grave joke.

The Hon. Mr. F. H. May acted as auctioneer on Saturday at the fancy sale on the Volunteer Parade Ground. I wonder if he had a license?

Chinese in Hongkong are very keen litigants. One man here was so anxious to secure a good defence that he engaged two solicitors to protect his interest. How the experiment will work is yet to be proved.

What marvellous escapes some of our houses have had. I am not thinking of the typhoon but of certain Sanitary Board bye-laws which gave the department power to insist on a house being pulled down in order to dig out the mosquito larvae which might be suspected to be lurking around the foundations. Fortunately these wide powers have been curtailed.

Scottish hearts should be gladdened soon by the sight of the tartan and the kilt. The Cameron Highlanders will spend a day or two here on their way from Duntreath, and there should be gay times down the Happy Valley. The local football association have given the teams here permission to play the Camerons, and the Buffs will have to be at tip-top form to maintain their unbeaten record against the sturdy players from the kilted regiment.

Many are the tales told in Hongkong of the experiences of newly-married couples when they set up housekeeping, and a good one has just come my way. The cook demanded more than one day and when the inexperienced mistress asked what had been done with the lot purchased the previous day she was gravely informed that it had been used for soup! This was too much even for the inexperienced housekeeper and she promptly ordered another cook.

Last week I suggested there was something wrong with my head because of my failure to appreciate the logic of the argument advanced by the Hon. Mr. Murray Stewart in contending for the return of the duty paid by the Garrison on liquor. His theory that it would be conducive to thrift reminded me of the old woman who having joined a co-operative society became obsessed with the dividend idea and at breakfast addressed her family: "Eat, ye beggars, eat. The more you eat the bigger the dividend." Mr. Stewart has seen fit to point out what he aptly calls my "erroneous notion" by explaining that the amount each man will get depends upon his rating and not upon the quantity of the liquor he consumes. He adds, "The total abstainer will share equally with others. There is thus no motive for drinking, and the story of the co-operative society, to'd by your correspondent, is seen to have no application."

It would be adducible to suggest that the logic of the chosen of the Justices of the Peace is at fault. I have not the temerity of the Colonial Secretary—but it is either a failure to grasp the point on his part or a defect in my thinking apparatus, because it seemed to me that it would be apparent to the simplest intelligence that it was decidedly unfair that the testator, in addition to profiting by his abstinence, should participate in the profits of other men's purchases. Doesn't the co-operative story still apply? Won't the testator feel inclined to say "Drink, ye beggars, drink. The more you drink the bigger the dividend" (for me).

The fate of a man who dared be within the City Hall without a ticket on an occasion when admittance was by production of a little piece of card was seriously discussed at the Legislative Council on Thursday, and it was decided that as a trespasser he was liable to be "chucked out." I suppose the same experience would befall anyone who tried to enter the Cricket Ground on occasions when entertainments are held to which admittance is by ticket. It recalls the iconoclast who rode across the Cricket Ground on horseback during the progress of a game several years ago in order to demonstrate the right of way which exists there. The Bill now before the Council gives the Governor-in-Council power to deprive the public of that right.

That is a nice little dispute that is going on between Mr. Ure, K.C., Solicitor General for Scotland, and Mr. Balfour. The latter declared that Mr. Ure had made scandalous statements and that he had dishonoured his profession and his office, while Mr. Ure replied that Mr. Balfour had dishonoured his high position by stooping to the meanest calumny in order to escape a political embarrassment of his own creation. Suggests apple acid (with capital U), doesn't it?

This week I have been glancing through a book published in America bearing the title of "The Chinese," written by a Mr. J. S. Thompson, who incidentally mentions that he had the pleasure of staying a year and a half at the luxurious and hospitable Hongkong Club. Consequently Mr. Thompson will probably be known to many Hongkong residents. He has given to the world his recollections of Hongkong. Much has been said about the Colony that is nice, and a good deal that is quite the reverse. It is interesting, perhaps, to know that Hongkong is "a dozen higher and grander" than the Chinese, and that the architecture of the Colony is "the grandest in the Far East." His description of social life in the Colony includes references to the "Pompeian" luxuries of bathing in Junk Bay, and a three-page account of a St. Andrew's Ball. He says it is worth leaving Saigon with its transplanted opera to attend this great ball, but I think local Scotsmen, when they read the description, would prefer that men of Mr. Thompson's type would remain away. It may be that he was striving to be humorous, but in places he becomes distinctly libellous.

COMPANY MEETING.

THE STEAM LAUNDRY COMPANY, LIMITED.

A General Meeting of Shareholders of the Company was held at the Hongkong Hotel on Saturday, the 30th October, 1909, at 12.30 p.m. There were present:—Mr. W. Hutton Potts (Chairman), Honourable Mr. E. Osborne (Director), and Messrs. G. J. B. Sayer, Wang Kamfuk, A. Silva and Makfal.

The CHAIRMAN said:—The report and accounts having been in your hands for some time we will, with your permission, take them as read. We regret that the profit for the year is less than the two preceding years, in a great measure due to the loss of $2,752 through our late Shroff, who after being with the Company since the start turned out a thief. But for this loss the result, considering the depression the Colony has been passing through, would not have been so unsatisfactory, though one would hardly think that had times would cause a falling off in washing. The fact is that, people do not realise the importance of having their washing done under European supervision and in the best sanitary manner, otherwise I feel sure our Company would command more general support than it does at present. We can, however, congratulate ourselves that ours is the only Steam Laundry in the East which has survived the opposition of the native dhoty, supported as he is by the trusted "house-boy, who never fails to point out any damage, saying, "See what that Steam Laundry have done to!" the reason being that when he sends to his friend An Sin, a good many pieces are charged for which never go to the wash. And the fact that we are still in existence shows that at least some of the residents realise what they had to put up with before our Laundry started. If owners only saw the places compiled by native washermen and the water used by them, they would, I think, feel uncomfortable at the mere thought of receiving their clothing back into the house, let alone wearing it. Since our last meeting we have installed a dry cleaning plant and we hope and expect that this will help our profits in the future.

Before moving the adoption of the report and accounts, I should be glad to answer any questions.

Mr. SAYER asked how it was the Shroff could embezzle so large a sum as $2,752.

The CHAIRMAN replied that the amount was comprised principally in ships' large bills, which at times are unpaid for several months, and that the Shroff, by substituting one payment for another, made it difficult for the fraud to be detected.

Mr. SAYER thought that if the Manager had paid proper attention to the matter this loss might have been avoided.

Mr. SAYER further asked for information as to the agreement under the heading Accounts Receivable.

The CHAIRMAN replied that this represents roughly a month's outstanding bills.

There being no further questions, the CHAIRMAN then proposed the adoption of the Report and Accounts.

Mr. SAYER seconded, and the motion was carried. Mr. SAYER proposed the re-election of the Hon. Mr. E. Osborne as director.

Mr. WONG KAMFUK seconded, and the motion was carried.

Mr. WONG KAMFUK proposed and Mr. MAKPUK seconded the re-election of Mr. A.O.D. Gourdin as auditor carried.

The CHAIRMAN thanked the shareholders for their attendance, and stated that dividend warrants could be had on application on Monday, November 1st.

The Report and statement of accounts for the year ended 31st May, 1909, reads:—

The profit on working account after deduction of $2,752.19, Shroff's defalcation, amounted to $12,893.00, and the balance at credit of profit and loss account to $9,773.52, which the directors recommend should be apportioned as follows:—

Dividend, @ 8 per cent. on $100,000...	$8,000.00
Write off machinery and plant...	1,910.58
Carry forward to new account...	62.94
	$9,973.52

Directors.—The Hon. Mr. E. Osborne retires by rotation, and being eligible offers himself for re-election.

Auditor.—The Accounts have been audited by Mr. A.O.D. Gourdin, who offers himself for re-election.

H.K. CLUB V. NAVAL YARD.

This match was played on the Club ground on Saturday afternoon. The teams lined up as follows:—

H.K.F.C.—F. H. Kow, F. G. Carroll and J. McCubbin; Hunter, R. C. Barlow and Ben Chapman; A. Aitchison and W. Weston; Manning; Whitmarsh and H. W. Sayer.

N.Y.F.C.—Leithbridge; J. C. Joughin and Rochford; Cooches, Haines and Macey; Crowley and Pye; Meares; Wilcox and Dalziel.

The Club kicked off facing the sun, and the ball being passed out to Aitchison, he was early conspicuous by the mastery with which he carried the ball to the Naval goal, but the ball on being centred was put past by Weston. From the kick-off Aitchison again got the ball, and on this occasion his centre was headed past by Whitmarsh, the ball grazing the upright. The Yarders then settled down to their game, and as the result of good play by the defence, they were soon in the Club goal area, giving McCubbin and Carroll all they could do to keep the goal intact. Continuing to press the Yarders looked like getting the first goal, Dalziel being dangerous with his low shots, which Kow had some difficulty in handling. Joughin placed the ball right in front of the Club goal from a free kick, but again the ball was sent wide, this time by Meares. Aitchison and Weston then worked the ball up the field and were only stopped by Rochford, who was playing a splendid game, within ten yards of the goal. Sayer was responsible for a fine individual effort which was rendered fruitless by Manning, from a pass, sending the ball wide with no one to beat but the goalkeeper. The Club was pressing when the whistle sounded for half-time without any goals having been scored.

Early in the second moiety, a free kick for hands against Barlow, tested the club defence, and Kow did well by saving two shots from Haines in quick succession. Aitchison was responsible for the first goal of the match, when, with a lovely centre from an awkward position, he passed to Whitmarsh who beat Leithbridge. Weston scored the second goal from a corner kick after Leithbridge had saved from Aitchison. Manning made up for his previous mistakes by scoring the third goal from a pass from Sayer, who carried the ball almost to the goal line from the centre of the field. The Yarders had several attempts to get near Kow, but they were of little importance, the Club defence having them well in hand. Final scores, H.K.F.C., 3; Naval Yard, 0.

Very few spectators witnessed this match owing to the more important League fixture on the Military ground.

The Club was best served by Aitchison, Whitmarsh, Ben Chapman and the new half, back, Hunter. Kow in goal was safe, as usual, but he did not get much to do. McCubbin has not shown up to his form of former seasons yet, and his kicking is fluky. Barlow is still in need of training, as is Manning, who missed several good chances on Saturday. The new forward Sayer is worth looking after, and will do well when the forward line gets into working order.

The Yarders were best served by their defence. Leithbridge in goal was the most useful man on the field. Haines and Dalziel played well, and had the latter player received more support, he would in all probability have registered the first goal for the Naval Yard.

Both teams showed to more advantage on Saturday, and it is evident that all they require is a better knowledge of each other's methods to be teams which will have to be reckoned with in the near future.

BUFFS V. KOWLOON.

Buffs:—Black; Ruler and Bartlett; Darr, Wren and Tanspelt; Fitzpatrick and Drew; Taylor; Brewster and Barker.

Kowloon: P.C.—Foulkes; Allen and Lapsley; Storrie and C. Wilkie; Hadley and Morris; Brown; T. Wilkie and Mead.

The above teams met on the Military ground on Saturday, and as was fully expected the former won, but not by the large margin anticipated. Both teams started strong, and the Buffs tried several times for goal without success; the defence put up by the Kowloon team being better than was anticipated. Hundreds of the Buffs supporters were on the ground to encourage the Military players, and no doubt many of them felt the field disappointed, judging by the remarks heard on the field as the game proceeded. From an outsider's point of view, and particularly when the outsider went to see the Buffs win by six goals to nothing, the game was extremely surprising. Fitzpatrick and Brewster were the men of the hour. The former drew first blood for the soldiers which was the only goal scored in the first half.

In the second part Kowloon defence worked well to save their colours, but Barker for the Buffs secured a second goal a few minutes before the call of time, much to the joy of the latter's supporters, and the game ended in favour of the Buffs by 2 goals to nil.

ROYAL ARTILLERY V. ROYAL ENGINEERS.

Played on the Military ground at Happy Valley on Saturday, this match ended in an easy win for the gunners by six goals to two. The Artillery put a strong team into the field, and the chosen eleven of the seppers included some old and tried footballers, but these sadly lacked form, and in many stages of the game were found wanting. The teams turned out as under:

Artillery:—Beasley; Oxley and Waters; Walker, Weaver and Howitt; Cramp and Ansell; Watts; Nash and Bolla.

Engineers:—Smith; Beadmore and Cully; Lamb, McCrory and Jackson; Parlow and Meaney; Morrish; Taylor and Ormond.

The Engineers kicked off, and after each goal had been visited a halt was called before the artillery goal. From a scrum in front Morrish sent in a sharp and well-directed shot, but Beasley proved equal to the occasion and cleared. A second attempt by Meaney lacked force. The left wing of the artillery took charge of the leather and transferred the play. A long kick by Nash landed the ball in front of the R.E. goal. Watt took the opportunity and made no mistake. With one goal to their credit the gunners continued the bombardment. This time Watts was led by the right forwards, and it was not long before another opening presented itself. He promptly took advantage of it, and for the second time the leather found a resting place in the net. A third goal was shortly afterwards added by this unerring pivot, through a mistake by Cully. The Engineers then worked their way into Artillery territory, and fought hard to overcome the defenders. Meaney took the first open shot at goal, but the kick was not straight. Morrish took the next opportunity and Beasley did well to clear, but he was not prepared for another immediate attack, and Meaney succeeded in passing him. Some clever play by Parlow kept the Artillery on the defensive for another spell, but eventually the gunners broke away and bore down on the R.E. stronghold. A sortie followed before the goal and Nash, who throughout did good work for his team, added another goal to the score.

Half-time: Artillery, 4; Engineers, 1.

The Engineers made a fine dash off in the second-half, and playing with better combination, fought hard to overcome the R.A. defenders. Oxley and Waters, however, did not shrink their work, and eventually the pressure was relieved by Watts taking charge of the leather and passing to Bolla. The latter made a smart dash along the wing and when in a good position shot. His aim proved true and another goal was registered for the conquering gunners. After this the seppers rallied for another attack, and once more fought their way to the R.E. goal before which a lengthy siege followed. Morrish's first attempt to net was unsuccessful, but he made sure of a second opportunity, and scored the last goal for the Engineers. At this stage the players appeared to tire, and interest in the game, which had at first been fairly fast and exciting, waned. There were occasional visits to both goals, but it was sometime before another opening was allowed. At length Watt saw another opportunity, and promptly added another goal to the gunners' total.

Final: Artillery, 6; Engineers, 2.

A. COY. BUFFS V. 87 COY. R.G.A.

Considerable interest was taken in this match which was played on the Parade Ground on Saturday at 3 p.m. A Coy. won by two goals to nil and on the afterwards play looked as if they could have won by a wider margin.

83 COY. R.G.A. V. 78 COY. R.G.A.

These teams met at Lyman on Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. M. S. Barnfather refereed.

The keen rivalry which exists between the teams made the play attractive during the whole of the game. 83 Coy. eventually won with the only goal of the match to their credit.

R.E.C. V. B.O.C.

This match was played on H.K. Club ground Happy Valley on Saturday at 2.30 p.m. From start to finish the game was full of interest and the play was occasionally very fast. The "Boys" were the better team and would have won but for the dilly-dallying of their forwards in front of their opponents goal. Lusitano was first to score and they looked like winning until H. Goldenberg beat Alves with rather a soft shot. The game ended with the teams dividing two goals, and the league points equally between them.
